THE ALBUM

This is the first album to be truly inspired by the most noble of animals, the horse. More than an inspiration, it is realized musical excellence and fantasy superb! Enter the equestrian spirit through this exceptional music, including a track "For Bucephalus" dedicated to Alexander the Great's special horse. The textures of William's melodies soothe the listener into a level of rapture and fulfillment unlike any other by flowing straight to your heart and lifting your spirit rather than just being heard. William has given us is a new realm of musical splendor, something too good to be described with words and too beautiful to know without feeling both the exhilaration and the sense of calmness that surrounds one through this euphoric listening experience."

THE ARTIST

William Paul has been a successful professional musician for many decades, having toured more than half of the United States including major city concerts. A recent release in the US, "JOURNEY OF AGES" garnered much critical acclaim and reviews. Identified as a prodigy, Paul says "I knew I had been given musical talent when I started singing all types of music around the age of five. I was 17 when I began playing solo gigs and organizing bands to make my own living." Encompassing a truly impressive spectrum of genres including rock, pop, blues, folk, country, soul, R&B, classical, horn groups and new age, Paul brings a depth and balanced variety to his work found in only those few, truly exceptional new releases. "The most compelling music will take you on a journey," he muses and current fans have already noted that his current project HORSE DREAMS is the first journey about the horse where "fantasy becomes reality and reality becomes fantasy." Inspired by the classical masters as well as genre-breaking artists like Isao Tomita, Paul brings a well-rounded expertise to making the ancient and noble character of the horse come alive in his new album.

REVIEWS

Chris Spector/ Midwest Record Recap: "Mixing his passion with his calling, William Paul creates a well woven soundscape that horse lovers will have an intuitive feel for and take to heart. The music is so rich with emotion and texture."

Skip Whitson/ The Sun News/ New Mexico: "I found it to be relaxing, soothing and highly evocative. I was intrigued by the "horse feel". I'm quite impressed with William Paul's skill with composition.

J-Sin/ Smother.net: "William Paul has employed luxurious synths that coat with a topping of sugar all of the songs giving them a dainty but strong reserved feel perfectly suited as a tribute to the horse. Interesting and certainly a unique idea for an album."
